- 12 The Pessimist—Negative Emotions and Being Ill
- 13 The Optimist—Positive Emotions and Being Healthy
- 14 The Dalai Lama Is Interested in Brain Plasticity during Meditation
- 15 The Effectiveness of Yoga Practice and Meditation Ought to be Measured
- 16 The Flow—Highest Form of Emotional Control and Meditation
- 17 What Is Meant by Emotions?
- 18 Negative Emotions
- 19 Positive Emotions
- 20 Emotional Intelligence Reflects a Person's Wisdom and Ensures Wellbeing
- 21 On the Molecular Psychodynamics of Emotions
- 22 On the Molecular Processes at the Brain's Synapses
- 23 Therapeutic and Preventative Methods for Activating Neurotransmitters and Neuropeptides

- 24 The Role of Natural Integrity in the Activation of Healing and Health-Preserving Neurotransmitters (Neuropeptides)
- 25 Psyche, Neurotransmitters (Neuropeptides), and the Immune System
- 26 Emotional Eustress and Distress in Neuropsychimmunological Regulation
- 27 Self-Control Stabilizes Self-Regulation (Self-Healing)—Fear Destroys It
- 28 Countering Diseases with Resistance and Resilience
- 29 The Fear of Cancer
- 30 Why Is Fear of Cancer Common to Our Society? Why Are Cancer Patients “Excluded” from Our Society?
- 31 What Do Physicians Feel and Think when They Themselves Are Diagnosed with Cancer?
- 32 Patients Report on how They Deal with Their Disease
- 33 Near-Death Experiences Alter Awareness
- 34 Emotional Inhibition and Suppressed Emotions—Underestimated Factors in Cancer Development
- 35 Training Emotions from Childhood on Is the Best Prevention for all Processes of Becoming and Being Ill
- 36 Are Physicians Educated and Prepared for Conversations with Cancer Patients?
- 37 Experimental Animal Model Proves the Possibility of Spontaneous Healing in Cancer
- 38 Activity of Natural Killer Cells Stimulated by Positive Emotions Extends the Lives of Cancer Patients Considerably
- 39 Creative Visualization: What Is It?
- 40 Conquering Cancer with Creative Visualization
- 41 Creative Visualization May Ameliorate Pain
- 42 Somnoimmunology. The Functions of the Immune System During Sleep
- 43 Sleep Behavior of Cancer Patients
- 44 Everything in Life is Rhythm
- 45 Disruptions of Rhythm before and during Cancer
- 46 Humans—Electric, Electrolytic, and Magnetic Beings
- 47 How Do Electrolytes Generate Bioelectricity, i.e., Human Energy?
- 48 The Human Bioelectric Healing System and Its Possible Influence on Cancer Patients
- 49 Silicon-rich Natural Minerals in Cancer Therapy: Preliminary Results and Experiences
- 50 What are SiO<sub>2</sub>-rich Natural Minerals?
- 51 Oxidative Stress and Malignancies
- 52 Humans as Electromagnetic Beings—Cancer Susceptibility to EMF Radiation
- 53 Cancer Develops Not in the Cell, But in Connective Tissue
- 54 The Dogma of Cellular Cancer is Inadequate for Solving the Problem of these Diseases
- 55 The Basic Substance of the Extracellular Matrix—Anti-Arrhythmic Functional Systems of All Elementary Basic Regulatory Processes

- 56 Basic Substance of the Extracellular Matrix—A “Pharmacy” for Endogenous Antibiotics
- 57 The Extracellular Matrix Is the Regulator of Unspecific Functions of the Holistic Being
- 58 On the Vegetative Nervous System and Its Role in the Holistic Neuropsychimmunologic Regulation of Humans
- 59 Pathophysiological Forms of the Unspecific Principle of Switching between Three Phases - Blocked Regulation as a Sign of Precancerosis
- 60 Chronic Inflammation as Precursors of Cancer Development
- 61 Emotional Stress—A Potent Inflammation Stimulating Agent and Disruptive Factor in the Regulation of the Basic Substance of the Extracellular Matrix
- 62 Virchow’s Hypothesis of the Role of Inflammation in Cancer Development Has Finally Been Recognized in Germany, too, after Approximately 150 Years
- 63 How Can Inflammation and Blocked Regulation of the Vegetative System Be Measured with Simple Methods?
- 64 Age-Related Changes of the Extracellular Matrix and Delaying of this Aging Process through SiO<sub>2</sub>-rich Natural Minerals
- 65 The Neuropsychimmunological System—A Protective Shield Against Cancer
- 66 Is It Possible that Certain Drugs Play a Part in Cancer Development? Yes! The Carcinogenic Effects of Cholesterol Reducing Drugs
- 67 Physical Activity and Lack Thereof with Regard to Cancer Processes
- 68 Lack of Liquids (Water) and the Process of Cancer Development
